He is very patient and provides us help a lot. Could be much better if they provide us more on software trainings. Also sometimes it is hard to follow the lectures, so maybe reviewing Session is also important.

My TA is very effective at providing intuition behind all the maths and homework, which is what we need for the assignment. Also, his office hours are always very well-thought and organized. I don't think we can complete the assignments without his help.

The course would be better if the TA and the professor could communicate more. The materials covered in class sometimes are not super helpful in finishing assignment. The TA has to take the burden.

I think there was a HUGE mismatch with professor and student expectations and knowing how (or wanting) to fix that. Bridging that gap effectively would have made this course more enjoyable. The sheer difficulty of the assignments really hurt the enjoyment of the course.
